MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence
 Deputy Director for Plans
 Deputy Director for Science and Technology
 Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Briefings on CIA/DIA Relationships

1. In preparation for an inspection of DIA by the Defense Inspection Service (DINS) of OSD, CIA has been asked to brief the DINS staff on CIA's view of CIA/DIA relationships on Wednesday, 13 December.

2. DIA has already presented one short briefing to this group, covering the USIB, its committee structure, and community relationships. On 30 November DIA will discuss the following areas with the group in a series of short, summary presentations: collection, production, scientific and technical intelligence, mapping and charting, counterintelligence, plans and programs, the Special Activities Office, and the Defense Intelligence School.

3. CIA's presentations to the DINS staff should cover the relevant subject areas mentioned above with emphasis on the nature, current state, and trend of CIA/DIA relationships in each area. Since the total briefing time is limited to two hours, CIA spokesmen from the various components should discuss only the most important aspects of the CIA relationship with DIA. Organizational details should be kept to a minimum.

4. I have asked Bruce Clarke, Director of the Office of Strategic Research, to be responsible for arranging and coordinating the CIA presentations. He has designated [redacted] Chief, OSR Planning Staff, to assist in making the arrangements. Please have your representative contact [redacted] on Extension [redacted] and [redacted]

SUBJECT : Briefings on CIA/DIA Relationships

1. In preparation for an inspection of DIA by the Defense Inspection Service (DINS) of OSD, CIA has been requested to brief the DINS staff on CIA/DIA relationships from the CIA point of view.
2. DIA has already presented one short briefing to this group, covering the USIM, its committee structure, and community relationships. On 30 November, DIA will discuss the following areas with the group in a series of short, summary presentations: collection, production, scientific and technical intelligence, mapping and charting, counterintelligence, plans and programs, the Special Activities Office, and the Defense Intelligence School.
3. The DINS staff would like a similar set of presentations by CIA. The emphasis of the CIA briefings should be on the nature of the CIA-DIA relationship in the particular subject area and the trend in the relationship. Organizational details should be kept to a minimum. The plan is for the CIA spokesmen from the various components to present their views on Wednesday, 13 December, in about two hours or so. Obviously, the limitations of time mean that only those aspects of the CIA relationship with DIA that you consider most important can be discussed.
